new zealanders are too complacent about the continuing erosion of their right to know what government is doing on their behalf political risk has become a primary consideration in whether official information requests will be met and successive governments have allowed free speech rights to be overridden drawing on decades of experience as a journalist and editor gavin ellis chronicles the patterns of erosion and calls for entrenchment of the bill of rights act as supreme law it would set a high bar that politicians must hurdle before freedom of expression could be curtailed
