a powerful collection of personal essays on displacement being different and living between two worlds told with humour and self reflection a book for our times written with wit lyricism cynicism and tenderness rachel house based on ghazaleh golbakhsh s experience as an iranian immigrant growing up in new zealand these essays range from a childhood in war torn iran including the trauma of a night spent in prison as a six year old to learning english so she could make friends to dating in the days of corona this is about growing up as a young woman torn between her immigrant roots and her desire to be like everyone else the humour is sometimes offset with the more sombre reminder of the racism that has always existed in this country from misguided quips to more serious stories of harassment the impact of recent world events shows that more than ever marginalised voices are needed in our cultural discourse darkly satirical and wickedly funny this prize winning novel takes a tilt at a wide range of contemporary matters what happened that connects a diverse group of characters along with an ex all black and an elephant the people who committed the act of revenge in 1985 thought it was perfectly executed twenty years on the truth is revealed the truth about the deception that started it all from sexual stereotyping to militant feminism the machismo of the all blacks to new age beliefs psychiatry to womb burial and naming ceremonies nothing is safe from the razor sharp wit of this superb writer this novel won the deutz medal for fiction in the montana new zealand book awards
