workers who loaded and unloaded ships have formed a distinctive occupational group over the past two centuries as trade expanded so the numbers of dock labourers increased and became concentrated in the major ports of the world this ambitious two volume project goes beyond existing individual studies of dock workers to develop a genuinely comparative international perspective over a long historical period volume 1 contains studies of 22 major ports worldwide built around an agreed framework of issues these port studies examine the type of workers who dominated dock labour their race class and ethnicity the working conditions of dockers and the role of government as employer arbitrator and supporter the studies also detail how dockers organized their labour patterns of strike action and involvement in political organizations the structure of the port city is also outlined and descriptions given of the waterside environment these areas of investigation form the basis for a series of 11 thematic studies which comprise volume 2 drawing on the information provided in the port studies these essays identify important aspects and recurring themes and explain how and why particular cases diverge from the rest the final chapter of the book synthesizes the various approaches taken to offer a model which suggests several configurations of dock labour and presents suggestions for future research this major scholarly achievement represents the most sustained attempt to date to provide a comparative international history of dock labour an annotated bibliography completes this essential reference work

undoubtedly the most comprehensive and intimate biography of nelson ever written the sword of albion encompasses the high dramas of the battles of the Nile Copenhagen and Trafalgar Sugden brilliantly interweaves graphic accounts of Nelson's famous victories at the battles of the Nile, Copenhagen and Trafalgar with his lesser known yet equally gripping campaigns to liberate the Italian states from French domination and his role in the blockade of Malta often snatching remarkable triumphs from crippling reverses but behind his military prowess was a man riven with paradoxes and schisms at the very heart of his personal life. Nelson emerges as a strong minded but vulnerable human being in constant need of affection and reassurance whose relations with superiors, colleagues and friends were intense and stormy. We meet the fighting admiral in search of ultimate military victory and the glory hunter skillfully manipulating his public – the national hero and patron of merit and the indigent commoner trying to secure his position in a society dominated by wealth, property and the family man and the adulterer who scandalized society by his passion for the mercurial Lady Hamilton yet whose ambition for domestic tranquility was destroyed by his untimely death at Trafalgar. The triumphant and the tragic lend an epic yet human quality to the life of Nelson fully exploited here in a richly detailed narrative that teems with a glittering array of sailors and civilians, heroes and villains, husbands, wives and lovers.

For some unknown reason as I get older my past and heritage is more often on my mind. Who was my great grandfather Fearnley? What was it like for my grandfather Fearnley serving in the First World War? What and who makes up the genes and blood that pass through my family's veins? I have not attempted to make this book a record of my life; it is more an attempt to record those people, moments, experiences and places that I believe have influenced me into becoming what I am. For the most part I have made a cut-off period at about 2000 for I believe that by then I had become the man that I am.

Admiral Lord Nelson's Diamond Chelengk is one of the most famous and iconic jewels in British history. Presented to Nelson by the Sultan Selim III of Turkey after the Battle of the Nile in 1798, the jewel had thirteen diamond rays to represent the French ships captured or destroyed at the action. A central diamond star on the jewel was powered by clockwork to rotate. In wear, Nelson wore the Chelengk on his hat like a turban jewel, sparking a fashion craze for similar jewels in England. The jewel became his trademark, to be endlessly copied in portraits and busts. To this day, after Trafalgar, the Chelengk was inherited by Nelson's family and worn at the court of Queen Victoria. Sold at auction in 1895, it eventually found its way to the newly opened National Maritime Museum in Greenwich where it was a star exhibit. In 1951, the jewel was stolen in a daring raid by an infamous cat burglar and lost forever. For the first time, Martyn Downer tells the extraordinary true story of the Chelengk from its gift to Nelson by the Sultan of Turkey to its tragic post-war theft, charting the jewel's journey through history and forging sparkling new and intimate portraits of Nelson, of his friends and rivals, and of the woman he loved.

Over 500 pages of facts, statistics and records of every match and every player for the Australian National Rugby Union team from the first match in June 1899 up to December 2023.

This book unfolds the untold history of one of the United States' most notable civil rights crises from the perspective of academic leaders.

rosemary nelson a solicitor in lurgan northern ireland was murdered by a bomb exploding under her car near her home in march 1999 there were claims the police and government ignored a series of warnings about threats against her concerns about her safety had been raised over a two year period before she was killed she had become a hate figure for hardline loyalists and reportedly some police officers because of some of the republican clients she represented it was claimed she had been threatened by ruc officers as well as loyalist paramilitaries the cory collusion inquiry 2004 isbn 9780102927443 investigated the allegations of collusion between british security forces and paramilitaries in her murder and concluded that there was enough evidence to warrant a full public inquiry this inquiry finds no evidence of any act by or within any of the state agencies royal ulster constabulary the northern ireland office or the security service which directly facilitated the murder some members of the ruc did publicly abuse and assault her in 1997 and make abusive threatening remarks about her to her clients which became publicly known combined with intelligence leaks these had the effect of legitimising her as a target there were omissions by the ruc and nio which rendered her more at risk and more vulnerable these omissions meant the state failed to take reasonable and proportionate steps to safeguard the life of rosemary nelson the inquiry finds no evidence of obstruction into the murder investigation which was carried out with due diligence
